

LIVING TOGETHER – YEAR 3

Websites

<http://library.thinkquest.org/CR0212302/>

ThinkQuest has an excellent section entitled ‘A kid’s life in...’ that provides information and images from 25 countries around the world.

www.timeforkids.com/TFK/kids/hh/goplaces/0,28374,,00.html

The Time for Kids website has a list of countries to explore. All have interesting sightseeing tours, while some have ‘A day in the life...’ section where children talk about their daily life and communities.

www.oxfam.org.uk/coolplanet/kidsweb/wakeup/index.htm

The Oxfam Cool Planet website has four case studies of children from contrasting communities around the world.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Alexander_Calder

Wikipedia provides information on the life of Alexander Calder, as well as a selection of his sculptures.

<http://calder.org/work/category/hangingmobile.html>

The Calder Foundation has an informative website, containing hundreds of images of Alexander Calder’s work.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Richard_Deacon_\(sculptor\))

Wikipedia features some examples of Richard Deacon’s work. Further examples can be found using Google Images.

www.bbc.co.uk/religion/

The BBC website has a dedicated section on religion, with information about the various festivals and celebrations that are central to each faith.

www.reonline.org.uk/ks2/index.php

RE Online is an excellent website portal, providing links to hundreds of online teaching resources.

www.sacred-destinations.com/categories/

The Sacred Destinations website has information and images on hundreds of different religious buildings around the world.

www.factmonster.com/ipka/A0882306.html

Fact Monster offers a wealth of accessible information on a number of topics, including national holidays and festivals from around the world.

www.developingteachers.com/days/days.htm

Developing Teachers features an excellent section on celebrations, with lesson plans and further information.