Article by Yong Sheng, Stella, Miles, Max and David

On 4th February Year 6 had a day trip to Muzium Negara and the Panggung Bandaraya Theatre.

The museum was fascinating! We went to learn about the history of Malaysia and our wonderful teachers made it a challenge by having our teams find specific artefacts, write down their details, and take pictures of them and anything else we found interesting. Before we started the hunt, we made team names and got our equipment. There were 4 rooms; early history of Malaysia; the Malay Kingdoms; the Colonial Era and Malaysia Today. We started in different rooms and and worked our way round them all. We took turns using the camera and writing down facts, which were displayed in Malay and English. We almost got all the facts but some we didn't have time for. After the museum we went to other small museums near it and waited till we were sent to eat our delicious Lunch in the garden nearby

Miles: "What I learnt from the trip that The Great Fire in Kuala Lumpur was in 1881 and so was the Great Flood. In 1957, Kuala Lumpur signed the Proclamation of Independence."

David: "I really enjoyed the trip and I learned a lot about the history of Malaysia like how the Orang Asli's hunted, I had fun and I think the rest of the year did as well, I would like to go there again."

After we finished at the museum we went to a KL theatre and watched a production called MUDKL. It was amazing! It was all about how Kuala Lumpur grew and then caught fire which was called 'The Great Fire'. All of the villagers work together to try and put the fire out. There is a really active part when the villagers (actors) came to us the audience with a few buckets and asked us to put the fire out. There was also an interesting part when KL was flooded and they put a large blue-coloured material over the whole audience us and made the whole theatre look like it was flooding! It looked awesome! I've learned quite a lot of things from this production, I've learned to be resilient because they were also resilient, Although the whole of Kuala Lumpur was destroyed, they never give up and they built it back! The second thing I've learned is co-operation because they co-operated to build KL back This was the most inspirational, amazing, awesome and sad production I've watched!

Year 5 Maths Challenge

On Friday 30th and Saturday 31st January 2015, eight Year 5 learners travelled to Garden International School to take part in the first Year 5 KL Maths Challenge. Aidil, Alex, Aqeel, Bryan, Humayra, Jeeahn, Sena, and Tsu Lin formed two teams of four to challenge twelve other teams from nine different International Schools.

Over the two days the teams competed in a Maths Trail, computer challenges, written calculation work, mental maths, a maths relay and finally a challenge to build a roller coaster from junk!

The teachers in attendance at the Challenge commented on the effort, competitive nature and resilience of the Nexus Teams. In the team challenges their cooperation was excellent and their concentration in individual challenges was outstanding.

The teams thoroughly enjoyed both days and all received medals for their participation. Humayra returned with an additional bronze medal for her contribution to a mixed school team which came third in the Maths Trail.

All the learners enjoyed the two days and returned exhausted on the Saturday evening. Here are some of their thoughts: Alex: "I enjoyed making the roller coaster using junk. I liked challenging myself because we don't usually get questions like that. It was a bit confusing but it was still exciting and challenging."

Tsu Lin: "The event was fun and exiting. We get to meet new friends. We got to know each other better as well.

Jeeahn: "There was a lot of challenging and fun activities. I developed my resilient skills because I never gave up. It was a good experience for me asI realised that my math skills were good and that still I need to have more."

Sena: "I enjoyed doing the math challenges and problems and taking part. I liked it because the challenges were fun and we could get our brains running. I had to be resilient when the questions were hard and challenging."

Humayra: "I really enjoyed co-operating because I've never really worked with the people in my team before. I also enjoyed the creativity of all the challenges and how they picked the challenges because it was really fun doing all the challenges even if they were hard. I think I developed co-operation and communication because I don't really talk a lot in group work and this time I worked together in a team instead of going and doing it individually. It was fun and exhausting."

CAS Reflection by Ng, Wi Kiat (Kenny)

This weekend, Nexus sent 20 diplomatic, well versed individuals to KLMUN organized in the Garden International School.

As a representative of France in the SC it was both an exciting and challenging role, as this was the first time represented a VETO country. This time, we debated various topics, which include that crisis in CAR as well as the territorial disputes in the South China Sea.

My performance in this conference was defiantly one of my better ones. Learning from TAYMUN, I had organised notes as well as tried to speak calmly, fluently and diplomatically. I also raised key and critical issues regarding each topic and was able to debate them well.

Overall, I found that my performance within this conference is something to be highlighted and hopefully I'll be able to retain these skills and polish them for future conferences.

The highlight of this conference would defiantly be when I was announced the Best Delegate

Year 9 IGCSE Options Evening

Learners will be given an options booklet with information on making subject choices for the next academic year.

If you have any further questions about this, please contact Ms Leilah on zahedi.l@nexus.edu.my of SC. It was a shock and when my name was mentioned, I feel exhilarated; it was one of the pinnacle awards in one of the toughest councils in MUN.

It was a sweet victory after a long MUN journey and hopefully I'll be able to take these skills further in my next conference, and that this victory was because of skill, not because of chance!

International Award Silver Expedition Langkawi 2015

A group of 14 Nexus learners took part in a gruelling 3 day kayaking expedition around the northern region of Langkawi over the long weekend, paddling through mangrove lined rivers and open water sections around rocky island on a challenging 40 kilometre route. Camping overnight on two remote beaches without electricity or running water, the group prepared and cooked their food, even managing a toasted marshmallow dessert!

During the trip we experienced many encounters with nature: white crested Eagles, Swimming monitor lizards, pesky thieving macaques with the highlight kayaking with a pod of Dolphins at sunset!
